ADVISORY

Reported Sexual Assault – Attempted Rape

*This Timely Warning was authorized by Diane Sweeney – Captain for Administration, University Police
April 5, 2016*

An anonymous student contacted a Campus Security Authority (CSA) and reported an attempted rape that occurred at approximately 2:30 a.m. on April 3, 2016. The incident occurred in an undisclosed location on Berkley Road on the Knoll. No suspect information was disclosed, other than they were known to each other via social circles.

The anonymous student respectfully asked that no law enforcement or University investigation take place at this time, but is working with University support services in Student Affairs on various options. The student declined to provide any additional details of the incident.

The University takes reported cases of sexual violence seriously. Survivors of crimes are encouraged to report incidents to the University police for additional investigation. If you are a survivor or have knowledge of alleged crimes, please contact Detective Bruce Allee at bballee@butler.edu or call 317-940-8856.

Butler offers several resources to assist survivors of sexual assault and educate our community:

- Programs and workshops regarding issues such as sexual violence prevention and response, dating violence prevention and response, and healthy sexual choices are available through the Office of Health Education and Outreach Programs.
- The University's Title IX Coordinator who ensures the University's compliance with federal law is Stacie Colston Patterson, more information can be found here.
- Educate yourself on issues related to sexual assault and other forms of interpersonal violence. Some helpful resources can be found here.
- Call University Police to report any criminal incident. From a cell phone, dial 317-940-9999. From a campus phone, dial 911 or 317-940-9396.
- Additional reporting options include Silent Watch and University Police's CSA online reporting form.

In an effort to keep yourself and others safe, please consider the following:

- Do not make any assumptions about what your partner is interested in doing sexually. Define your limits and make your intentions known. Talk about it!
- If you are interested in proceeding physically, seek permission and do not proceed without an explicit and enthusiastic "yes" from your partner.
- Remember that prior sexual interactions with someone do not automatically give permission for future sexual interactions with that person. Consent is required each and every time.
- Be aware that some people may encourage excessive alcohol consumption in order to take advantage of others sexually.
- Know that you have an obligation to your fellow Butler community members to intervene if you observe a situation that you feel may lead to sexual victimization. Do not let anyone "get away" with sexual assault. Step in, call for help, or call the police.
- Be aware of your surroundings and trust your instincts. This alone will not prevent sexual assault, but is a good practice for reducing vulnerability.
- The ultimate responsibility for preventing sexual assault lies with those who would commit it. Take responsibility for your own actions and don't blame those hurt by sexual assault and other forms of interpersonal violence.

Bystander intervention can substantially reduce sexual and other forms of interpersonal violence. Click here to learn about Butler's bystander empowerment model, Community of C.A.R.E.
